Executive Summary

-2023.3 Q1 Results

Sales

Q1 sales were in line with initial forecast. With the lifting of behavioral restrictions, changes in the post-COVID-19 environment have accelerated resulting in a gradual worsening of churn rates and ARPU. However, versus pre-COVID-19 levels, they remain at elevated levels.

◆ 3 home delivery business

- ✓ Subscribers : Subscriber churn is seen to return to levels seen prior to COVID-19. New customer acquisitions, however, grew moderately YoY owing to curtailment of PR expenses previous term.
Net subscriptions were roughly +4,500 (versus end-March). (Net increase of approx. +3,000 for 3 brands)
- ✓ ARPU : Gradual decline after surging and peaking in Q1 2021.3 on the back of COVID-19.
ARPU came in at ▲5% YoY (+4%~+11% versus pre-COVID-19) but all three of the major brands exceeded initial forecasts.

EBITDA

Whilst EBITDA fell YoY versus inflated COVID-19 driven profitability last year, thanks to new Ebina Station (distribution Center) firm recovery it was higher than initial forecast.

◆ 3 home delivery business

- ✓ Profitability fell YoY reflecting an inflated EBITDA margin over the past 2 years on high unit purchase prices.
- ✓ New Ebina Station (Oisix's distribution center), having overcome some issues, is now on a firm recovery and distribution costs have improved.

◆ Other Business

- ✓ Purple Carrot (U.S.) posted a loss in line with forecast reflecting lower sales, the impact of inflation on the company's profit structure, and the depreciation of the yen.

2023.3 Q1 Achievements

Sales : Developments in AfterCOVID-19 , such as the lifting of action restrictions, have accelerated, and the churn rate and ARPU are returning to pre-COVID-19 levels, largely in line with initial forecasts.

EBITDA : Whilst EBITDA fell YoY versus inflated COVID-19 driven profitability last year, it was higher than initial forecast. With recovery efforts at the new logistics center progressing smoothly, Returned to profitability from a quarterly loss Q4 the previous fiscal year.

Consolidated Results Overview

*(Note) Calculation of ARPU assumption.
To eliminate the one-off boost effects of COVID-19 on ARPU, we assume ARPU to be equal to 2020.3 or the level posted before COVID-19.

Whilst ARPU fell YoY, sales were flat supported by subscriptions that grew by 15K for the three brands. Whilst EBITDA fell YoY reflecting a difficult comparison against a one-off increase in profit margins last year as well as the impact of inflation on margins in the US business along with the weaker Yen, adjusted real EBITDA, excluding the impact of COVID-19, was flat.

Business Phase of the 3 Home Delivery Brands

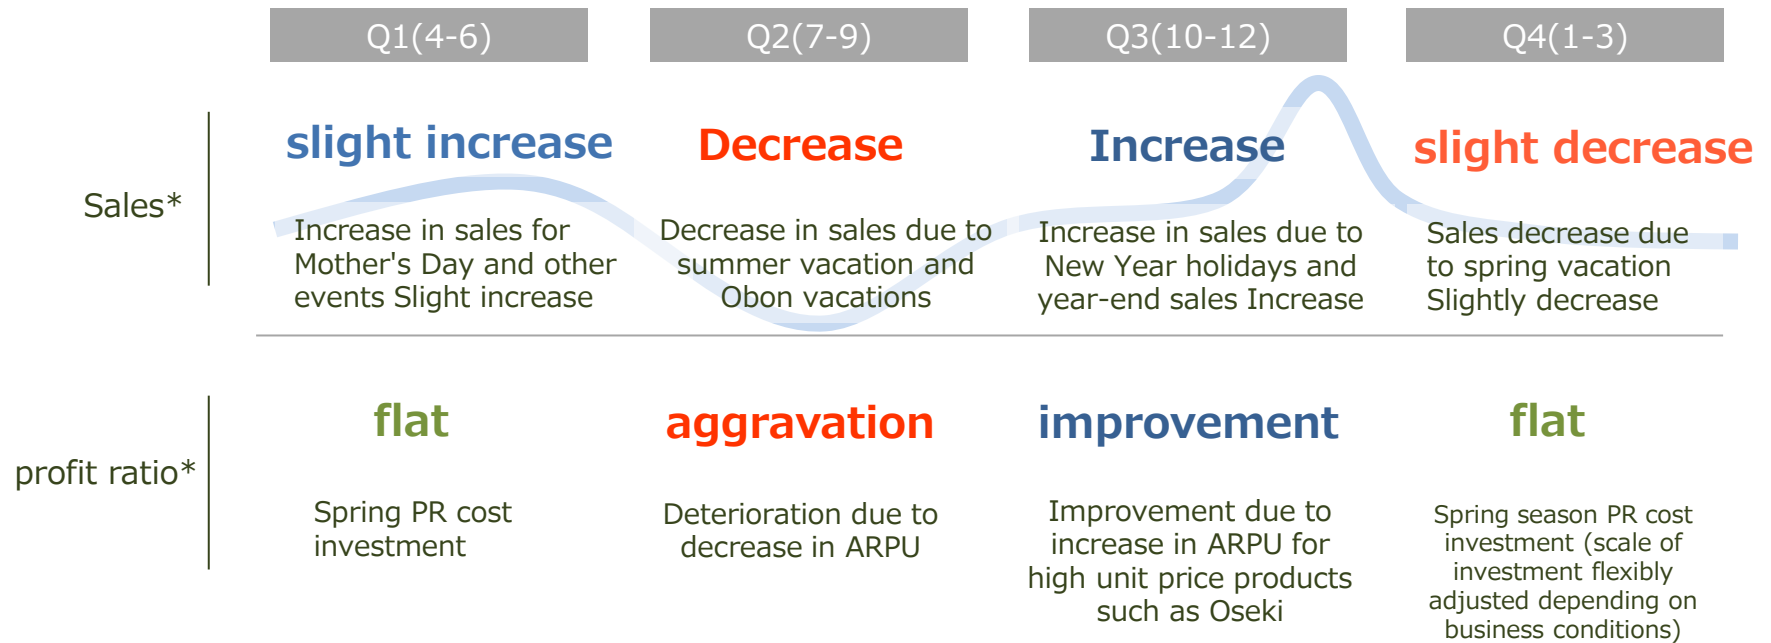

Appropriately implement business strategies in line with the business phases of each brand

Seasonal fluctuations in business performance

We have a business model in which sales and profit margins fluctuate from quarter to quarter. Sales and profit margins improved in Q3 due to sales of high unit price products during the year-end and New Year holidays, while sales and profit margins declined in Q2 due to the summer vacation.

- Seasonal changes in normal conditions

- Impact of COVID-19 Seasonal Variations

Due to the impact of COVID, seasonal fluctuations such as the impact of summer vacation are expected to be smaller than normal in FY2021.3 and FY2022.3, but seasonal fluctuations are expected to return to normal in the future.

Main Business Risks

■ Effects of climate change

Fresh produce accounts for about 30 % of Group sales. We deploy a structure for fresh produce that makes it possible to secure supplies from other regions if poor weather in specific regions prevents harvests or results in poor quality. The system distributes transactions and in principle allows procurement of key products from multiple producer regions. Nevertheless, poor weather lasting longer and having more broad-ranging effects than expected may lead to product shortages and quality issues, with potential consequences for Group businesses and business results.

■ Effects of concentration of logistics centers

We operate our own logistics centers, where logistics functions such as inspection, storage, sorting, and packing of our products are concentrated. For the most part, products under the Oisix brand are shipped to customers through our logistics center located in the city of Ebina, Kanagawa Prefecture. Those under the DWMK brand are shipped through a center located in the city of Narashino, Chiba Prefecture. If a natural disaster, fire, or other cause were render either or both logistics centers unable to operate, potential consequences include inventory losses, shipping delay, and temporary suspension of services, which in turn would affect Group businesses and business results.

■ Issues related to food safety

We have established proprietary standards for the products handled for all our major brands. Whenever possible, we seek to offer produce grown without pesticides or chemical fertilizers. Our processed food products are made using the fewest possible additives. We have also established unique inspection systems for produce (including inspections of production sites and testing for residual pesticides) and processed food products (including use of third-party experts and independent institutions). We also strive to secure appropriate quality and safety that can be objectively demonstrated and evaluated through health and safety management guidance provided to suppliers and other means. Nevertheless, it remains possible that those who produce the products we offer may provide misleading or fraudulent labels regarding use of pesticides and similar matters or provide false quality information. Such cases could well lead to rebuke or penalties from regulators, customer complaints, and compensation for damages, in turn damaging the image of the Group's brands or leading to a loss of confidence in the Group and potentially affecting Group businesses and business results.

■ Governance throughout the supply chain

The Group develops its business in collaboration with many business partners, from procurement to logistics and the last mile. If any of these supply chains were to experience an increase in occupational accidents caused by the working environment, or governance violations such as human rights abuses or concealment of wrongdoings, it could have an impact on our business and business performance.

The Group will strive to avoid or mitigate risks through close communication with business partners that make up the supply chain, jointly recognizing the possibility of incidents and security systems, and through collaborative work. We will also strive to transfer risks through the use of insurance and exemption and cancellation clauses in contracts.
